Welcome to Historic Northport

Northport is located within the Town of Huntington on the north shore of Long Island, in Suffolk County. It is comprised of the incorporated Village of Northport and the surrounding areas of Crabmeadow, Eaton's Neck, Asharoken, and Fort Salonga. With its picturesque harbor front, golf courses, theater, museum, breweries, winery, restaurants, art galleries, shopping and more, Northport offers something for everyone.

Originally called Great Cow Harbor, the area of Northport was included in the "Second Purchase," a deed between three Englishmen and several Chiefs of the Matinecks forged in 1653. As settlers cleared their land for farming, they stacked the cord wood at the foot of present-day Main Street, then just a small path, for export to NYC. By 1802, a public dock was built to 'promote navigation and commerce.' The harbor and waterfront quickly became a hub of industry including ship building, shell fishing, sand mining, and publishing. Northport, which it was renamed in 1837, flourished through the 19th century and was home to sea captains and leaders of industry, whose houses still stand along Woodbine and Bayview Avenue.

Northport's small-town charm has made it a destination for artists, actors, writers, and city dwellers to escape the limelight and heat of the city. Take in a live concert in the bandshell as your children play on the playground, walk your dog, or ride your bike in Village Park. Then, grab a cup of coffee, shop for the latest fashions, hand crafted home goods, or fine art. View the latest exhibit at the museum, drink a cold microbrew, attend a live theater performance, and enjoy outdoor dining. Top off your day with an ice-cream cone as you walk along the dock, all without ever leaving Main Street.

Travelling east or west along Route 25A (Fort Salonga Road) this historic highway that was once part of the Washington Spy Trail, takes you through Northport's "uptown" business district. Along this route you will find day-spas, restaurants, bars, specialty shops, and antique stores.

If you love the outdoors, Northport is home to three golf courses, many Town beaches where the calmer waters of the Sound are perfect for paddleboarding and kayaking, a winery, and several nature preserves with hiking trails. If you just can't do it all in one day, book a room in the brand-new hotel, which, like Northport itself, combines our rich historic tradition with the opportunity of the future.

About the Chamber of Commerce

The Northport Chamber of Commerce welcomes you to stay longer than a while in a place where it all makes sense, shop in our stores, dine in one of our many restaurants, visit our museum, play and picnic in the park, take a boat tour, see a show at the theater, and stay at our hotel and enjoy all our seasonal events.

The Northport Chamber of Commerce has proudly served Northport for 50 + years. The chamber represents both economic and social growth to both our members and community.

Monthly meetings allow business to network, exchange ideas, opinions and receive business leads and referrals from one another.

Our board members work behind the scene to explore ideas that will direct visitors to come and explore our quaint sea-side village. The publishing of our Shopping and Recreational Guide is one of the many things we do, it has a complete listing of all yearly events, we now have a new and exciting website which gives the chamber a better social media presence bringing more people to our charming village.

If you are interested in joining the chamber, whether you own a business or work from home, please contact us.
